again with the IBCA leadership. We have added Junior All-Star games with Kentucky and expanded the All-Star Shootout to invite more teams to experience this great traditional rivalry. A big thanks to Coach Witty, Charlie Hall and Pat McKee with their efforts in regard to the Indiana-Kentucky All-Star Series. We hope you all can experience our events in this summer!

Our challenges each year become more difficult with the growth of AAU, individualized workout facilities, exposure events, etc. While each of these are providing more opportunities for our players, you know and I know the importance of Indiana high school basketball and the work with the high school coach is at the core of what we do. It is up to us to continue to fight to make our programs important to our student-athletes and communities. We applaud the job that you do and encourage you to keep making a difference in the lives of your players. Your impact, influence and life-lessons as a result of your leadership will continue to reach them far after their playing days are over. Do not forget that!

Finally, we wish you the best this upcoming season and encourage you to participate and vote on our proposal, so we can make a difference with the IHSAA in regards to "our" game and tournament! It has been a pleasure serving as your president of the IBCA. Remember your District Representatives and Executive Board are here to serve you; do not hesitate to contact us with ideas or concerns that can help our organization grow.

From The Coaches' Box

By Chris Benedict

Welcome to the 2013-14 Indiana high school basketball campaign. We hope that your school year is off to a great start and your preseason workouts are in the process of preparing you for the upcoming season.

This is an important year for us in the IBCA, as it is our proposal year to the IAAA and the IHSAA. As you know, we have distributed a tournament proposal for our coaches to review and ultimately vote on. We need your support in the process. We need all coaches to vote as well as to talk to their athletic directors and principals about our tournament proposal.

There are many areas of concern with our tournament, and this is our chance to be heard and follow the procedures to influence change with the IHSAA. We are making progress in opening the lines of communication with the IHSAA, and the time is now for us to communicate ideas to improve and promote our Indiana basketball tournament. If you have any questions or concerns about the proposal, do not hesitate to contact me or any other committee member.

We encourage everyone to visit the IBCA website as it is loaded with information about All-State and Top 100 selection processes as well as forms for membership and nominations. Also, information about various sponsors that continue to support the IBCA is available on the web site. BSN Sports, Pacers Sports & Entertainment, Best Choice Fieldhouse and many others continue to support our organization year after year.

We also encourage everyone to become members to the IBCA as well as the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame. These two organizations continue to do things that enhance our game and honor those who have impacted the great tradition of Indiana high school basketball. We also encourage all coaches to participate in the Subway Player of the Week program by sending nominations each week to Pat McKee. Subway has been a generous sponsor with this program as well as our clinic meal in the past.

The IBCA again continues to take on more projects and honor more players in our state. This past summer we hosted the National Rising Senior Event at Ben Davis. We want to thank our Junior All-Star coaches – Brent Chitty, Ryan Bales and Brad Dickey – for their work with Team Indiana. We once again will be hosting this event in July 2014 and adding girls' teams for 2014. The Indiana-Kentucky All-Star Series is blossoming once

From The Executive Director

By Steve Witty

I would hope by now that everyone has gotten the school year off to a good start and is busy preparing for the upcoming season.

Every head coach will be receiving IBCA membership information. It is the head coach's responsibility to also make sure that all Assistant Coaches, Middle School coaches and Elementary coaches have the opportunity to join as well.

We have upgraded our website to make it possible to join the IBCA online, to register for the annual IBCA Clinic online and to pay by credit card. Special thanks to Renee and Pete Turpa for their work in making this possible. Your support of our professional organization is much appreciated.

I would like to thank Indiana All-Star Games Director Charlie Hall, IBCA Director of Special Projects Pat McKee and IBCA Assistant Director Mike Broughton for coordinating another successful Indiana All-Star experience for our state's top seniors and top juniors. Together, the Junior-Senior exhibitions and the All-Star Games against Kentucky raised approximately $30,000 for various charities, including the Indiana National Guard, the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame and the IBCA Scholarship Fund.

Also, special thanks to Marty Johnson, Kathie Layden, Renee Turpa, Pete Smith and all the coaches who worked the Boys' and Girls' Showcase events. Collectively, efforts from all these people have made the Showcases very successful.

Brent Chitty, Ryan Bales and Brad Dickey did a great job coaching our Indiana Junior Boys in the inaugural Rising Senior Academy conducted by the National High School Basketball Coaches Association. The event was a huge success. The speakers were awesome. The games were competitive and well played. Overall, the event was a valuable experience for the players from all six states.

Please be aware of the IBCA Calendar of Events (Item 28 in this newsletter). Please pay particular attention to January mailing that includes nominations and election info. Please also note deadline dates to nominate players for honor teams, scholarships and showcases as well as ballots for District Reps and Coaches of the Year. Don't hurt deserving candidates' chances of receiving recognition because you forgot to join the IBCA or missed a deadline.

January again will be "Coaches vs. Cancer" month for high school basketball in Indiana. High school players and coaches have stepped up and embraced this program, raising nearly $600,000 for cancer research the past six years. Thanks for being outstanding role models for your school and community by helping fight this deadly disease.

The IBCA works hard for high school basketball in Indiana. Chris Benedict, Tom Beach and Marty Johnson have done an excellent job of leading a committee of coaches from across the state in an effort to study ways to improve our state tournament. The committee worked diligently, and by now the results of the study has been forwarded to all head coaches. Any coach who has questions or concerns about the committee's recommended proposal is encouraged to contact members of the committee for clarification.

In October, all head coaches will be surveyed to determine the amount of support for the committee recommendations. If the survey results are favorable, the IBCA will make a formal proposal to the IIAAA and the IHSAA in the spring of 2014 to adopt the tournament changes.

It is my pleasure to continue to serve as Executive Director of your professional organization. On behalf of the IBCA, good luck this season as you maintain high expectations for your players, don't sacrifice principles for victories and may the best teams win.

-- Steve Witty

A best-of-five-game format will determine the winner of the 2014 Challenge Cup. The 10 participating teams feature at least 14 NCAA Division I prospects and has the markings of becoming an outstanding annual event.

Plans are for this event to be hosted at an Indiana site in January 2015. It then will continue to rotate between the states following years. There will be an actual "Challenge Cup" that will be displayed at the basketball Hall of Fame of the winning state for years it prevails.

Proceeds from the 2014 inaugural event will go to the Wounded Warrior Program as well as the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame and the Kentucky High School Basketball Hall of Fame.

Pacers Sports & Entertainment sponsorship

The IBCA thanks Pacers Sports & Entertainment for its continued support of our organization. This would not be possible without the help of Jim Morris, Rick Fuson and Quinn Buckner.

January is 'Coaches vs. Cancer' month

The IBCA again has designated January as "Coaches vs. Cancer" month for high school Basketball in Indiana. In the first six years of this initiative, boys' and girls' coaches across Indiana raised nearly $600,000. In 2012-13 coaches, teams and communities stepped up to raise $113,000. That makes the six-year total from Indiana basketball coaches more than $586,000.

For 2013-14, ideally pick a date in January for a "Coaches vs. Cancer" game. If not January, please pick a date that works for you and host a "Coaches vs. Cancer" game.

The American Cancer Society also will present banners to programs that meet certain levels of donations. Categories are Champion ($10,000 or more), MVP ($5,000 to $9,999) and All Star ($2,500 to $4,999).

This January, we are asking every IBCA boys' and girls' coach to select a game to promote "Coaches vs. Cancer."

All participating schools will be recognized this year on www.coachesvscancerindiana.org; those raising a total of $2,500 or more through all sports will receive a "Coaches vs. Cancer" recognition banner imprinted with the school's name. To be eligible, all funds raised from throughout the school year must be turned into the local American Cancer Society office no later than June 1, 2014.

"We are very proud of Indiana high schools," said American Cancer Society Coaches vs. Cancer specialist Beth Campbell, who helps coordinate the IBCA initiative while overseeing ACS efforts in Indiana, Illinois and Michigan. "And we are extremely proud of our partnership with the IBCA in this extraordinary campaign.

"The commitment of the coaches, teams, parents and participants makes a real impact in the lives of those touched by the disease. We are truly grateful for the continued support. By working together, we can all join the team to create a world with less cancer and more birthdays."

Once you have determined the date for your "Coaches vs. Cancer" game, please e-mail this info to Gene Milner (gmilner@tds.net) so we can list the game dates on our "Coaches vs. Cancer" calendar. During this game, we are asking you to pass a container through the crowd (or make one available at your ticket counter) for fans to make donations. Checks should be made payable to "American Cancer Society."

After the game, we ask you to do the following:

1. E-mail or write Steve Witty to let him know you participated and how much money was collected
2. Call Bob Lovell of Indiana Sports Talk and let him know how much you collected
3. Send a check for the amount collected (payable to the "American Cancer Society") to Steve Witty, P.O. Box 638, Plainfield, IN 46168, who will forward it to the Coaches vs. Cancer office, or you can send it directly to the American Cancer Society, Attention: Beth Campbell, 20450 Civic Center Dr., Southfield, MI 48076

Please make plans now to include a "Coaches vs. Cancer" game on your schedule for the 2013-14 season. Our goal is 100 percent participation of all high schools in Indiana.

To help support activities at your school, the American Cancer Society will provide a Coaches vs. Cancer Tool Kit with information on how to get started, ideas for fundraising, sample materials to help with local promotion, and a post-event reporting form to submit along with all donations to your local American Cancer Society office.

To request a Coaches vs. Cancer Tool Kit, sign up at http://main.acsevents.org/site/TR?fr_id=61706&pg=entry or contact Beth Campbell at (248) 663-3476 or Beth.Campbell@cancer.org.

New NCAA Division I academic requirements for Class of 2016

The NCAA has released an SAT/ACT sliding scale that corresponds with the increased GPA requirements for the class of 2016 and beyond. Any current high school freshman or sophomore who is even remotely considering the possibility of playing a sport collegially needs to pay attention. The wiggle room to correct academic shortcomings has been greatly reduced.

Here is a summary of the NCAA Division I academic requirements for a Full Qualifier that take effect for the class of 2016 and beyond:

The minimum core course GPA has increased from 2.00 to 2.30. 10 of the 16 core course requirements must be satisfied prior to the start of the senior year.

7 of those 10 core courses must be from English, Math and Science subsections.

Grades earned in the 10 core courses are "locked in" for the purposes of calculating the final core course GPA.

Any retakes of the first 10 core courses must be completed prior to senior year.

The NCAA also has introduced a new status for the class of 2015 – the "Academic Redshirt." An "Academic Redshirt" may receive a scholarship and practice with his/her team, but he/she may not participate in game competition as a college freshman. Students with a GPA of 2.30 or above may achieve either "Academic Redshirt" or "Full Qualifier" status, depending on their SAT/ACT test scores. Students with a core course GPA between 2.00 and 2.29 cannot attain "Full Qualifier" status but may achieve "Academic Redshirt" status by meeting minimum sliding scale test score requirements.

The new sliding SAT/ACT scale results in significant changes in minimum test score requirements. The minimum SAT score required to compete as a college freshman increased by 180 points while the minimum ACT score increased by an average of 1.4 points (sum score).

Here are two examples of changes to the new sliding scale:

Example 1

Prior to 2016: 2.00 core course GPA + 1010 SAT or 86 ACT = Full Qualifier 2016 and after: 2.00 core course GPA + 1020 SAT or 86 ACT = Academic Redshirt

Example 2

Prior to 2016: 2.50 core course GPA + 820 SAT or 68 ACT = Full Qualifier 2016 and after: 2.50 core course GPA + 1000 SAT or 85 ACT = Full Qualifier Remember, the NCAA does not include the writing component of the SAT or ACT and the ACT score is a sum score (not average) of the English, math, reading and science sections.

Finally, just because a student-athlete meets the minimum NCAA academic standards, it does not mean they will be admitted to play sports at the college of their choice. Many universities have academic standards for incoming freshman athletes that are higher than the NCAA minimum requirements.

What does all this mean? Student-athletes must start tracking courses early. A student-athlete should calculate his/her initial core course GPA at the conclusion of his/her first semester in high school and continue to do so each semester thereafter.

Now more than ever, every semester counts.

2013-2014 Coaching Changes

From the beginning of last season through September 2013, 138 people have been hired as new varsity basketball coaches in Indiana high schools -- 67 to boys basketball positions and 71 to girls basketball positions -- for the 2013-14 season.

The number of changes is fewer than the 2012 off-season, and the total is well short of the 188 changes made in the spring and summer of 2007.

According to data compiled by HickoryHusker.com, here are the number of changes for the 13 years prior to the 2013 off-season: 2012 - 167; 2011 - 154; 2010 - 162; 2009 - 146; 2008 - 148; 2007 - 188; 2006 - 152; 2005 - 146; 2004 - 147; 2003 - 141; 2002 - 135; 2001 - 139; 2000 - 125; 1999 - 129; 1998 - 133.

Here is a list of the 2013 changes for Indiana boys basketball and girls basketball varsity positions.

INAUGURAL NATIONAL RISING SENIOR ACADEMY IN INDY A HUGE SUCCESS

The inaugural national Rising Senior Academy was held at Ben Davis High School in July 2013.

This event was created by the National High School Basketball Coaches Association and supported by the National Association of Basketball Coaches. The purpose of this event was to bring some of the top players in the nation together to develop leadership and basketball skills. The following six states participated -- Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Ohio and Wisconsin.

During this three-day event, the teams participated in five games utilizing a round-robin format. The players heard presentations related to leadership, the recruiting process, social media and the student-athlete, and reaching one's full potential as a person and player.

These speakers addressed the players: David Ginsberg, NHSBCA, Executive Director; Ira Childress, Childress Sports Consulting; Bob Lovell, Indiana Sports Talk host, former college coach, author; Clark Kellogg, former NBA player, CBS college basketball analyst and Indiana Pacers vice president.

NCAA Division II, NCAA Division III, NAIA and junior college coaches were in attendance to observe the event.

In 2014, the event again will be hosted in Indiana at Ben Davis High School on July 13, 14 and 15. Girls' teams from various states will be included in the 2014 edition in addition to boys' teams. It is expected that there will be an increase in number of states represented in this event in 2014.

All-Star Report

The IBCA/IndyStar.com All-Star series is growing again. We had our largest crowd in the last six years in the senior doubleheader against Kentucky at Bankers Life Fieldhouse in June 2013.

With the IBCA teaming with Rob New and his Best Choice Fieldhouse, we are drawing a good crowd and providing much-needed financial contributions to Indiana National Guard families, the IBCA Scholarship Fund and the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame.

The generosity of The Indianapolis Star, the Indiana Pacers, Shepherd Insurance, Methodist Sports Medicine, Lids Team Sports, Marian University and many countless individuals has put us on solid footing going forward.

Our 12 coaches gave a lot of their talent, time and effort and represented their brethren with class. Scott Heady, Kevin Leising, Brent Dalrymple, Brent Chitty, Brad Dickey and Ryan Bales were great with our 2013 Senior and Junior boys. Mark Hurt, Juanita Goodwell, Julie Meeks, Michelle Harter, Tod Windlan and Jared Peterson were awesome with our young ladies.

With the help of Rob New and Best Choice Fieldhouse along with Ben Davis High School, Steve Witty and multiple IBCA reps, we were able to almost double our Game Day Shootout to 84 varsity and middle school teams.

Walt Raines at Franklin is going to help us put on a "Game Day Elementary-School Shootout" in 2014. This elementary shootout, added to the existing high school and middle school events, will give us about 125 teams between the ages of 8-18 playing basketball on All-Star game day and attending the All-Star games that evening.

I could go on and on about the good things that are happening with the All-Star Series.

Since the IBCA under Steve Witty has taken control, we have been able to grow the games with new ideas and efforts of our membership. Pat McKee, Mike Broughton, Renee Turpa, Joe Bradburn, Ron Hecklinski, Pat Strong, Kathie Layden, Ken Kaufman, Steve Downing, Amy Govert, Melissa Marlow, Randy Shields and Chris May are just some of the people who have given their time and efforts to seeing the games thrive again.

The best indicator of the overall health of the series is the fact that I cannot thank everyone or go into all the new things we are doing in this one article.

We all are looking forward to seeing you at the 2014 games at Bankers Life Fieldhouse.

Thanks again, and beat Kentucky!

IBCA/Subway Player of the Week program

About 100 high school boys and girls will have the opportunity to win IBCA/Subway Player of the Week recognition in 2013-14.

Initiated in 2008-09 thanks to support from the Indiana Pacers and Indiana Fever, these awards were given to deserving boys and girls who had outstanding weeks during the last five seasons. Last season alone, 91 players – 48 boys and 43 girls – were cited.

For the coming season, plans are for at least one boy and one girl from each of the three IHSAA districts to be honored each week, so long as there are nominees for the awards. The IBCA would prefer that nominations come from coaches of potential winners or from media in those areas. Coaches are to be IBCA members to nominate players.

To submit a nominee, please e-mail info to IBCA Director of Special Projects Pat McKee (patmckee77@aol.com) by noon Monday each week of the playing season (girls from Nov. 18 through March 10; boys from Dec. 2 through March 31).

If you nominate a player, please include the player's name, school, grade, height, position, year in school and a recap of the player's performance in his/her game or games of the preceding week, Monday through Saturday. Please also include the coach's name, e-mail address and best phone number to reach the coach.

After all players are selected during a given week, they will be added to a growing list of IBCA/Subway High School Players of the Week. The weekly listings will be posted no later than noon Tuesday. Coaches and/or Athletic Directors of the weekly winners will be notified by Pat McKee.

The first deadline for reports for the coming season will be noon on Monday, Nov. 18 for girls and Monday, Dec. 2 for boys. These will continue each week through the Monday following the IHSAA Boys and Girls State Finals.

Hoosier Basketball Magazine hosts annual Top 60 Senior Workouts

By Garry Donna, Hoosier Basketball Magazine

Sixty of Indiana's best senior boys as well as 60 of Indiana's best senior girls' high school players will be invited to participate in Hoosier Basketball Magazine's 2014 Top 60 Senior Workouts held in conjunction with the IHSAA and the Indiana Basketball Coaches Association.

The 32nd annual Girls' Top 60 Senior Workout will be Sunday, March 16, 2014, on the campus of Marian University on the westside of Indianapolis. The 27th annual Boys' Top 60 Senior Workout also will take place at Marian University in Indianapolis on Sunday, April 6, 2014.

Both Top 60 Senior Workouts will begin at 1:00 p.m. and include two sessions — 1:00-3:00 p.m. and 3:30-5:30 p.m.

The two workouts are coordinated by Hoosier Basketball Magazine publisher Garry Donna. Former state championship coach Rick Risinger of Heritage Christian will serve as on-court director of the 2014 Girls' Top 60 Senior Workout, assisted by IBCA-member coaches. IBCA-member coaches will also be conducting the Boys' Top 60. Director Steve Lynch of Brownsburg will lead the on-court activities.

These workouts give the state's outstanding seniors a chance to meet and compete. They also afford college coaches an opportunity to observe the players against top-quality competition.

While NOT a tryout for the Indiana All-Star teams, these events give Indiana-Kentucky All-Star game director Charlie Hall and his Indiana All-Star coaches, both boys and girls, the opportunity to observe the state's best senior players against top-flight competition.

For further details, call Garry Donna at (317) 496-1700 or (317) 925-8200. Or send him an e-mail at hoosierbbllmag@att.net.

NFHS rule changes for 2013-14

Head coaches in high school basketball will be allowed to come onto the court in an effort to break up a fight or keep a situation from escalating. Previously, the head coach could only enter the court if beckoned by an official.

This revision to Rule 10-4-5 was one of five rules changes approved by the National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Basketball Rules Committee at its April 15-17, 2013, meeting in Indianapolis. All rules changes were subsequently approved by the NFHS Board of Directors.

While the head coach and his/her assistants must continue to ensure that players remain on the bench during a fight, the committee agreed that the presence of the head coach on the court could be instrumental in preventing the situation from escalating, and the coach also could assist game officials in controlling the situation.

"By removing the requirement of the head coach being beckoned onto the floor by the officials, it should result in a more expedient resolution of the situation and restoration of order," said Therisia Wynns, NFHS director of sports and officials education. "The change also will allow the officials a greater opportunity to assess appropriate penalties by being able to observe the situation because of the increased assistance the head coach(es) will provide by their presence."

In other changes, the rules committee approved the use of electronic devices during the game in certain instances. Rule 1-19 now will allow a coach to take advantage of electronic devices for use in coaching and gathering statistics.

Teams, however, cannot use electronic equipment for voice communication with players on the court, and the use of electronic audio and/or video devices are not allowed to review a decision of the contest officials.

In an effort to thwart the use of leg-compression sleeves for non-medical reasons, the committee added leg-compression sleeves to the requirements of arm-compression sleeves in Rule 3-5-3.

Leg-compression sleeves shall be white, black, beige or a single solid school color; shall be the same color for each team member; must meet the logo requirements in Rule 3-6; and must only be worn for medical reasons.

The final rules change approved by the committee for the 2013-14 season will permit a single, visible manufacturer's logo/trademark/reference on the team jersey, not to exceed 2¼ square inches with no dimension more than 2¼ inches. The manufacturer's logo may be located no more than 5 inches below the shoulder seam on the front of the jersey, or 2 inches from the neckline on the back of the jersey, or in either side insert.

Wynns said this change will bring basketball in agreement with other NFHS sports rules and allow the use of a single manufacturer's logo on the jersey of the playing uniform.

In addition to these rules changes, the committee approved a new defensive tip signal that will be added to the Basketball Officials Manual. This signal will be given by the official when the ball enters the backcourt as a result of contact with the defensive player.

Basketball is the second-most popular sport for girls and third-most popular for boys at the high school level, according to the 2011-12 High School Athletics Participation Survey conducted by the NFHS, with 435,885 girls and 535,289 boys participating nationwide. The sport ranks first in school sponsorship of girls and boys teams with 17,768 schools sponsoring the sport for girls and 18,099 sponsoring the sport for boys.

The Hall of Fame museum, a 14,000-square-foot shrine to Indiana high school basketball, is another great opportunity for a team outing. A number of our memorabilia displays have been updated this summer. We have had visitors from coast to coast visit this summer who have come away impressed with the history and Indiana's passion for high school basketball.

As a team-building trip, to build excitement for the season or for a mid-season history lesson, we offer an affordable option for teams - $1 per player with coaches free. Keep in mind that no player on your roster this year had been born when Damon Bailey, Alan Henderson, Glenn Robinson and others were finishing their careers in the early 1990s, let alone players such as Oscar Robertson, Rick Mount, Larry Bird, Steve Alford and so many more legends. The Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame is a true history lesson that all current players could use.

We encourage you to visit our website at www.hoopshall.com, which features sections on our inductees and honorees, upcoming events, press releases and our online gift shop.

The Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame continued to add to our membership last year with a special offer to IBCA members. Coming again this year, we encourage you to support the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame by becoming an Active Coach member for $25. This is a savings of 75 percent off of our typical rate and gives you the same benefits as a regular member, including free admission to the museum and a 20 percent discount off items in our gift shop or online store.

I hope you will enjoy some of our numerous activities with the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame this year. We appreciate your support as we celebrate the history, tradition and memories of basketball in our state while educating and cultivating the next generation of Indiana basketball fans.
